

The relationship between Dr. Brian Coan and Tica Lema got off to an inauspicious start. When Brian, the founder of CARE Plastic Surgery, asked Tica for her phone number at a party four years ago, she said no. Two years later, they met again at a Bulls game, and Brian tried a playful pick-up line. He told Tica that she'd taken his breath away, and he needed to get it back. "It made me laugh so hard," says Tica, formerly of NBC-17 and now CARE's practice manager. "How could I say no?"

Nine months later, while hiking along the Eno River, Brian proposed. "I just knew I wanted those hikes to never end," Brian says.

With planning help from Amanda Scott of A Swanky Affair, the rehearsal dinner was held at the R. David Thomas Executive Conference Center, the ceremony at the Washington Duke Inn and the reception at Duke's Great Hall.

Durhamites in the wedding party included Dr. Maria Mora and Diana Carag. "Durham is a truly special place for us," Tica says. "It might sound cheesy, but we tell everyone that Durham is where all of our dreams came true." DM
