Daubert & Mathews

Of all things it was the heart – that universal symbol of love – that brought Melissa Daubert and Robin Mathews together. The pair met during cardiology training in medical school in New York, and now both are cardiologists at Duke University Medical Center.

Their jobs are demanding, of course, so the couple decided to save time and energy by tying the knot in the new city that they both have come to love. Their friends and family traveled from New York and enjoyed a beautiful late April ceremony in Duke Chapel before a reception at the Nasher Museum of Art. Dinner and hors d'oeuvres were served by Sage & Swift Catering as the Central Park Band played. Amanda Scott of A Swanky Affair planned the day, with floral arrangements by Ninth Street Flowers, tuxes by Bernard's Formalwear, jewelry by Atelier N Fine Jewelry and hair by Bella Trio. DM
